

Dear Sir/Madam;

Please do not change the rules and allow cell phone usage on commercial flights. In todays "cattle car" air travel it is hard enough to relax, read or sleep. One can only imagine what it would be like with cell phones in operation. I think we would be opening a new chapter in the book on "air rage".

Thank you for your consideration.
Carl L. Johnson